preached to his Mills River congregation yesterday. He is a young man destined to the front rank in his denomination

I think from the amount of material on the ground Johnson & Carland are about ready to lay the foundation of their new store house which will add greatly to the appearance of Angeline.

Mrs. D. L. Johnson is visiting relatives and friends in Asheville. D. L. is going to and fro on his disc plow, and it looks as if he is giving a valediction to all the old time implements.

It seems that the newspaper correspondents when they get out of something fresh to write they take up Mr. Anderson and the revenue gang, but if you will pardon me I will give them the go by and leave the balance of my space blank. B. T. M.

Horse Shoe Happenings.

The transition from happenings hereabouts to farm planning and farm labor is so marked that I feel inclined to turn agriculturist in my correspondence; but just now feeling too conscientious to do this, as I have had no experience at farm labor and know too little of this great science of agriculture to write theory, I say mum.

Mr. Epting, a brother of Mrs. Daven-port, visited Horse Snoe on Saturday and Wa Rev. P. C Battle delivered a strong lecture to the young people at Horse Shee chapel on last Sunday, illustrating by object lesson the growing force of habit upon the life and character. Mr. H. C. Cantrell and wife, of Hendersonville, are visiting at the home of Davenport Bros. Mr. Cantrell has been sick, but is better at this writing. Dr. J. G. Waldrop passed through our village Monday on a professional visit.
